DIRECTORY OF SHELBYVILLE, KY.

VALUE $3.00

This Directory is an authentic compilation of the names, addresses, phone numbers and occupations of the city and suburbs, compiled and corrected as of January 1st, 1933. The head of the family first, with wife's name in ( ). Phone indicated by *.

The term, City Directory, carries with it the idea of Business, Thrift and Enterprise. It means that the community has reached the distinction of a City with the organized Life of a City. It means there is enough variety in the activities of the people to warrant classification and publicity.

The City of Shelbyville has reached the class that justifies the compiling of a Directory of its citizenship.

With the approval of the Advertising Committee of the Chamber of Commerce, the work of compiling "The First City Directory of Shelbyville" was begun. Its completion and presentation to the city is due entirely to the untiring efforts of Mrs. Virginia Baskett, who represented the Gregg Distributing Co. Without the liberal support of the advertisers in this book it would not have been possible for Mrs. Baskett to have given 1500 Books to the Community.

The credit of the publicity and selling of the advertising must be given solely to Mrs. Baskett, and we take this, our best and only means of publically thanking her and the advertisers for their generous support.

Preserve this book for locating and phoning your merchants and friends. Study the list of advertisers and thank them.

The business men are counted upon to keep the town in a progressive condition. Help them by doing business with them. Your town cannot be better or bigger than its business. If it is worth living in it is worth trading in. Your children will not live in a "dead" town. Home spent money keeps the town growing and your boys and girls at home.

SHELBYVILLE, AN APPRECIATION

(By Geo. L. Willis, Sr.)

"Out on the great trans-continental, ocean-to-ocean U. S. Highway No. 60, thirty miles east of the state metropolis, twenty miles west of the state capital—on a spot of green earth—four square miles, where the sun shines bright, where the red bird and the robin linger all the year—five thousand people have pitched their tents, are rearing their children, living their lives and building their hopes of Heaven. That's Shelbyville—historically and geographically central—the heart of Kentucky, the heart of the nation.

"Like most blue grass county seats, it is filled with comfortable homes, little and big, with stores, shops, offices, mills, and nearly every known kind of mercantile and industrial activity; has water, gas, electric and ice plants; laundries, filling stations, half-hourly bus and truck service; three railroads, trolley line, massive court house, federal building, two hotels, two hospitals, library, club rooms, lodges, five banks, two trust companies, and two theatres.

"And with seven churches and far-famed schools, old and new, it has always led in the things a bit higher than merely material.

"Born the same year the state and county were, it and the latter were both named for Isaac Shelby, the first governor. Court officials, the first appointed by the new governor, met in "Owen's Station" south of town October 15, 1792, and selected the present site because the "main road" was here; and refused to select the planned-for site two miles to the north, where the 'painted stone station,' second most important in the state, was established in 1779 by Squire Boone, younger brother of Daniel.

"That 'main road' was the 140-year-old parent of a system of county roads, the largest and best in all, except two, of the counties of the state. Those 400 miles of county roads reaching out from Shelbyville in every direction, have made possible the county's unexcelled system of consolidated schools; have helped make Shelby the state's greatest dairying county—the 'Jersey Isle of America'—have done most to make of Shelbyville's twenty acres of warehouses, the third largest burley tobacco market in the world, to which the grower, from as far as 700 miles away brings his tobacco to be sold.

"Their home, the place where they live, is the chief boast of Shelbyvillians and Shelby countians, wherever they go. They say it is "Arcady" in spring and summer; that it is a cornucopia of peace and plenty in the golden autumn time; and that winter but adds to the lure and charm of its firesides and homes."

TO OUR SUCCESS

Is that intimate touch which only personal service of the right can bring to a family. We are not satisfied with being merely undertakers in the old sense, but we insist upon being funeral directors in the new sense. We add to the funeral and burial services an air of high-class, dignified professionalism.

Why Fly a Signal of Distress?

"I do not prize the word cheap. It is not a word of hope, nor a word of cheer. It is not a word of inspiration. It is the badge of poverty, the signal of distress. Cheap merchandise means cheap men and cheap men a cheap country."

WILLIAM McKINLEY.

What's the reaction to these testing times If you want people to think you are licked, wear a cheap dress that won't look well long—won't hold its shape—won't add the slightest amount of stiffening to your backbone. Good clothes, at present lowest price levels, are the soundest kind of an investment.

"If there was any Better Merchandise
We would have it."

"If there was any Lower Prices
You would get them HERE."
